Terrazzo Tabletops

Increasingly popular with designers, these materials are comprised of marble chippings in a cement or resin mixture and behave like traditional marble. Sheet sizes are 305 x 125cm, so table top sizing needs to be considered for best pricing. The below pictures are to give you a flavour of the options.

Agglomerates Tabletops

Offering an interesting and innovative look for a modern environment, agglomerates consist of marble chippings in a resin mixture, meaning they behave like a marble but are less porous. The pictures below offer a selection of the materials available.

Additional Options

We offer two styles of edging - the classic ribbed bistro edge which we source from France, and the straight edge which is produced in the UK..

The ribbed edging is supplied as 30mm deep with a 9mm backing plate and is limited to the circular sizes shown, with flexibility in the square and rectangular sizes within reason. This is available in polished and brushed brass and polished and brushed stainless steel. The joints are braised therefore making the join line almost invisible. The straight edging is supplied as 40mm deep with an 18mm backing plate and is available in a variety of shapes and sizes including ovals. This is also available in a wide variety of metal finishes to order. These rings are pinned and a join line will be visible.
